

LAUNDRY DRIVER ACCUSED

Sam Kelley Charged With Embezzling $128 From Yale Company.

Sam Kelley, a driver for the Yale Laundry, was arrested at Salem yesterday on a charge of embezzling $128 from his employer and his bail has been fixed at $1000 in anticipation of discovering further shortages.

The complaint says that Kelley was found short to the amount of $300 recently, and was given an opportunity to make up the amount, which he did, he and his wife working for the company at an aggregate wage of about $40 a week.
